

Instructions for Video Projects

- Once you have created your video, we suggest using the video editing program that came with your computer operating system; Mac has included iMovie, and Windows has included Movie Maker. Both of these applications are powerful video editors and offer you a wide range of possibilities. Both applications have detailed tutorials and help sections. You may also search Google for other tutorials or refer to the film production tutorial linked to the Audio|Video page.
- Once you have edited your video file, save it at the highest quality.
- Once your file is saved, go to YouTube and create a user account. It is there you will be able to upload your file to YouTube.
- Once at YouTube, you will be asked for search terms. Remember, anyone on the Internet will be able to search for and view your files.
- After your file has uploaded, you will be able to preview it in You Tube.
- You will notice on the YouTube page an embed code.
- Copy the embed code and save it to a text file. You will add this to the Open Channels' database page.
